Commercial varieties of Dates

Begum Jangi (B.J)

These are soft and short dates grown in Baluchistan province. These are known for their exquisite sweet taste. Medium thin skin and rather easily broken, this is a soft, syrupy tasting date with tender, firm flesh.

Aseel

These are brown coloured dates and are the pride of the province of Sindh. These possess a delicate flavor, and are firm-textured in appearance. Mainly used for retail supply in the local market. Its production makes up 90% of Pakistan's total date crop.

Turbat Mixed

These are a selected mix of dates of nearly a similar texture and size. These are mainly used as raw material for Date paste and Dates Block. These are grown in the province of Baluchistan.
